SORS DIGITAL ASSETS AND BLACK MANTA CAPITAL PARTNERS ENTER STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIP

Hong Kong, Dublin, Luxembourg, Berlin, Vienna – SORS Digital Assets Limited (SORS) and Black Manta Capital Partners (BMCP), are pleased to announce that they entered into a cross Collaboration Agreement.

SORS is an Asian-European digital assets consulting company that has strong customer demand to structure, create, issue, and trade STOs and other forms of digital securities. SORS is pleased to be partnered with BMCP, as together the partnership can enable SORS customers to compliantly and efficiently issue digital securities in Europe.

BMCP'S operating entity BMCP GmbH, Berlin has a license issued by the German Federal Financial Supervisory Authority ("BaFin") as a financial service institution in order to issue and manage Security Token Offerings ("STOs") in Germany. BaFin is a leading financial supervisory authority across Europe. BMCP has since then passported this license to several countries including the UK, Ireland, Luxembourg and Austria. BMCP's licence allows regulated broker/dealer services for European securities including digital assets for international investors.

"The skillsets of SORS and Black Manta compliment each other. Our collaboration will enable investors and issuers to benefit from the power of blockchain technology to deliver practical results. Inexpensive, safe and hassle free - technically enabled platforms such as Black Manta are the way forward, features accentuated when compared to transitional paper based processes in the Covid / post Covid business environment" said BMCP's Partner and Founder of SORS, Brian Elders.

"The partnership between BMCP and SORS will create tremendous value for projects requiring advisory, structuring, and distribution in addition to the regulatory, financial, and technical substrate required to bring liquidity properties to traditionally illiquid asset classes, like venture capital, private equity, and real estate", said Co-Founder of SORS Digital Assets, Andrew Broad. "The potential for 24/7 Markets, Fractional Ownership, Rapid Settlement, Cost Reduction, Liquidity and Market Depth, Automated Compliance and Asset Interoperability are exciting innovations and significant value drivers which will move the securities industry to truly end-to-end digital markets."

"Tokenization in the core financial field of securities will – for sure – bring paradigmatic change to the global financial markets. While Black Manta wants to be 'boutique' in its beginnings and run 'handpicked' STOs only, our strategy is global from day one: the first step is to link Europe and Asia on one blockchain-based investment platform. For this reason, we are excited to work with SORS who has already built a great global network of participants that can take advantage of our newly licensed platform," said BMCP's Co-Founder and Managing Partner Alexander Rapatz.

Christian Platzer, Co-Founder and Managing Partner: "With SORS operating globally out of Europe and Asia, our partner Brian Elders and his colleagues from SORS will perfectly support BMCP's strategic goal to build bridges between Asia and Europe in the Financial Services business of Tokenization; a business that is scaling faster month by month, but is in historic terms still in its infancy."
