They are deeply immersed in the world of tokenization, and their Bafin regulated platform is a welcome addition for investors, and opens up a new source of capital for a wide range of businesses. The scope of the opportunity they are addressing is global, and they are uniquely placed to deliver another step in the continued penetration of distributed ledger technology into financial services. Stephen Browne, Chief Operating Officer Sors Digital Assets: “The financial world has been upended over the past decade. Banks are being disintermediated from their customers by fintech companies, new infrastructure technologies are lowering the barrier to entry for non-fintechs, and a wave of exciting companies are rising up to tackle complex and meaningful problems. Part of this process of disintermediation has been the advent of blockchain finance, tokenized securities and security tokens. At Sors Digital Assets we understand that Black Manta operates at the very top of the growing security token waterfall. Regulated by BaFin, the strongest financial regulatory authority in Europe, with an explicit license in digital securities, Black Manta is the key player in the financial and technological growth of the tokenized securities market.

With this investment Sors Digital Assets is deepening its relationship with Black Manta to offer Black Manta's platform to the growing numbers of market entrants globally. We believe Black Manta is destined to be an iconic company. Black Manta will be the leading provider for tokenized securities and we couldn't be more excited to partner with this all-star team to realize the dream of making tokenized securities more accessible to everyone.”

Christian Platzer, Co-Founder and Managing Partner BMCP: “COSIMO X is one of the first digitally securitized venture capital funds in the world. They invest in blockchain, digital banking platforms, machine learning, and digital assets. In one sentence: They understand our ecosystems. - With Brian Elders being both the Founder of Sors Digital Assets and a Partner at BMCP, bringing the two companies closer together and raising Sors Digital Assets equity position with us was a very logical step. - The three of us together, we can truly operate on a global scale.”
